Eilean Siar OUTREACH

What is Outreach?

Our outreach service allows people to choose how their support is provided and gives them as much control as they want of their individual budget. Put simply, Outreach is the support a person purchases or arranges, to meet agreed health and social care outcomes through self-directed support payments from the local authority.

Payments can be made directly from the family or we can invoice the local council on their behalf.

Who can use the service?

If you already get support your next review of your support plan should give you the opportunity to think hard about our Outreach service.

If you don't already get support, get in touch with your local council to ask about support you may be eligible for.

Why use Action for Children?

Action for Children is a reputable, well-established organisation who have worked throughout the Outer Hebrides for 28 years.

Our staff are highly skilled and experienced and have all the necessary qualifications to carry out support. They are Scottish Social Services Council (SSSC) registered where necessary and are Disclosure checked regularly.

Our staff receive monthly supervision from line management and support from senior staff where necessary.

We also have a good on-call and support system in place and are guided by Action for Children national policies.

Our resource centre at Bayhead is suitable for children and young adults up to the age of 30.

We will provide individualised child-focused packages of support which can include activities, life-skills, communication skills etc.
